Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 to 20, 24 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Jayaraman et al. (U.S. Patent Application No. 2003/0153667).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Jayaraman et al. show all aspects of the instant invention (e.g. Figures 1 and 4) including:

- an electronic package as claimed including heat spreader, heat sink and thermal interface material TIM1,2
- the TIM made of materials as claimed including polymers 404 (Paragraph [0031]), fusible 403 and non-fusible 402 particles of the materials claimed

(Paragraph [0028]) with the fusible particles having a mean particle size larger than the maximum particles size of the non-fusible particles (e.g. Figure 4B)

- a form factor consisting of either a ball grid array or a pin grid array (see Printed Circuit Boards in Figures 1)

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claim 16 is provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 21 and 22 of copending Application No. 10/071,743. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because each claim a heat sink, a thermal heat spreader and thermal interface material located between said heat sink and heat spreader. The Examiner notes that Claim 16 is a broader statement of the claimed inventions.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 1/13/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Examiner incorrectly stated in the previous office action that feature 403 was non-fusible particles and feature 402 fusible particles when the opposite is true. This has been corrected in the present office action. However, this does not change the validity of the rejection. The Applicants state that Figure 4A show the non-fusible particles are much larger than the fusible particles. However, Figure 4B show the fusible particles 403 much larger than the largest fusible particle 402 to the point that the fusible particles engulf the non-fusible particles. In view of these reasons and those set forth in the present office action, the rejections of the stated claims stand.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
